Paldiski Army Barracks Klooga West [REDACTED] and the Klooga Army Training Area West [REDACTED] are located approximately 9 kilometers (km) east of Paldiski (Figure 1). A firing range with moving-target runs is approximately 5 km west of these installations.

Paldiski Army Barracks Klooga West covers approximately 450 acres and contains 6 multistory administration buildings, 10 multistory barracks, 12 vehicle storage/maintenance buildings, 43 vehicle support buildings, 30 storage buildings, 5 probable ammunition storage buildings, 91 probable quarters, and 30 support buildings. A training area immediately south of the barracks installation covers 530 acres and contains 2 tank/assault-gun firing ranges, a flat-trajectory firing range, 13 moving-target runs, 2 small-arms firing ranges, and 22 support buildings (Figures 2 and 3).

Klooga Army Training Area West covers 500 acres and contains 2 control towers and 16 small support buildings. This training area is apparently for tracked vehicles.

A comparative study of KEYHOLE photography from [REDACTED] missions between [REDACTED] reveals little physical change and continuous activity during this period.
